So here's what happened: Early on in our relationship I mentioned something about not wanting a big wedding. Our friends got married in a courthouse. We were immediately sad for them and all of the work it must have taken to have it at the courthouse. But not feeling that way, it did make us appreciate how nice our wedding was. Then they proceeded to tell me how they didn't invite the "parents" who didn't attend their wedding. The best friend of my husband's daughter didn't even get to walk her down the aisle. Her dad passed away when she was about 10 and she and her mom, not the bride's parents, walked her down the aisle. It is heartbreaking and is part of what makes my marriage a special experience for me. I remember being upset with the parents of the groom for not being more supportive of their daughter. However, then I realized that I should be sad that my children will never experience what the bride and groom are experiencing now. The bottom line is, your wedding is not about any one person. No one should feel obligated to attend your wedding. If they want to go, great. If they don't, it doesn't matter. So next time you're freaking out about your family not being able to come, stop and think about all of the things you're not going to experience because they can't be there. Then remember that what they're missing is much more valuable than you can imagine. Then go have a wonderful wedding day. P.S. By the way, when it comes to weddings, I say we are "in" or "out" as in, we are an all inclusive or all exclusive party. We want everyone to be a part of our wedding. We want everyone to be a part of our wedding. And if they aren't, so what?

KEYMACRO. KeyMacro is a live macro recorder that provides an easy and professional way to record your own keyboard actions, mouse clicks, and more. The application was developed to help people who work as part of a team, but who also want to record the actions they take to ensure they don't forget to do something that was important or should have been done. The first use is very simple. After you launch the application, your keyboard or mouse will be captured while you perform an action and then recorded. You can create up to 20 macros that will then be organized by session. A session is defined by a username and a short description, so they are easy to distinguish. You can reorder the macros by dragging them up and down, and you can delete them by pressing the cross symbol. You can also save sessions in.txt files, so that you can easily add them to a library to reuse them later. Macros can be grouped into lists and sublists, so that they can be used to create context-specific shortcuts. For example, you could have a list of all the tasks you need to complete in a project, and then a list of actions you must perform to close files on the desktop. Besides that, you can easily add shortcuts to open commonly-used applications or perform actions on files. Application features: ✔ Start recording as soon as you click on the application icon. ✔ Record the actions you take, including text and URLs. ✔ Create as many macros as you want. ✔ Organize the macros you create into a session. ✔ Remove the macros you don't want to use. ✔ Save the macros you create in a.txt file. ✔ Save the sessions in a.txt file. ✔ Create groups of macros. ✔ Sort the macros in a list. ✔ Group the macros into sublists. ✔ Add shortcuts to applications and open files. ✔ Add context-specific actions to group and sublists. ✔ Shortcuts can be opened directly from the list. ✔ Create your own tags, so that you can easily find the macros you need. ✔ Rearrange the macros in the list. ✔ Sort the macros in the list. ✔ Hide or show macros. ✔ Recompile the application. ✔ Run the application. ✔ Export the macros in.txt and.xml formats 1d6a3396d6
