Flash File Previewer is a fully-featured Flash (SWF) file viewer for Microsoft Internet Explorer, Mozilla Firefox, Opera, etc. The application supports viewing animated GIF and MPEG files for online web sites and provides a list of Flash actions (also known as SWF files) for Internet Explorer. The Flash Files list is displayed in the same window as the Flash File Viewer, and can be sorted alphabetically or by size. According to the FVH documentation, file previewing for animated GIFs was added to the application so that "animated GIF's can be viewed in the same manner as other types of images, without the need for a special application." Thus, you no longer need to use the Explorer to view animated GIFs or other Flash files. The Flash File Viewer uses the most common and compatible Flash player to play/view your Flash files. The application currently supports the following Flash players and versions: .as 2.0 .swf 3.0 .flv 1.0 .gif 1.2 .mpeg 1.2 .ra .rm .rv .sw .wl .wli Flash File Viewer FAQ: - How to add a folder containing Flash files to the application? - How to configure all Flash settings (browsers, etc.) for a single folder? - How to move Flash files from the main toolbar to the Flash List window? - How to view Flash files without the FVH toolbar? - How to view Flash files for Internet Explorer? - How to view Flash files in Firefox? - How to view Flash files in Opera? - How to view Flash files in Safari? - How to view Flash files in Chrome? - How to turn off the FVH toolbar? - How to use a double click to open Flash files? - How to
