Implements the on-screen keyboard for keyboard based languages in software that are not able to support the full keyboard. KEYMACRO is a Keyboard extension that allows you to use the full set of keyboard keys (except arrows, Home/PgDn, End, Page Up and Page Down) to type non-English characters, e.g. accented letters, special symbols, or other characters that cannot be produced by a standard keyboard layout. In some applications (e.g. MS Word) and keyboard layouts (e.g. US English) the full keyboard keys are already available to use for those characters, but they cannot be used because the keyboard layout was not designed with this keyboard feature in mind. In other cases (e.g. Greek) the only character combinations available are those that can be typed with the reduced set of keyboard keys, i.e. the ALT, SHIFT and CTRL keys (except Home/PgDn, End, Page Up and Page Down). KEYMACRO allows you to use the full set of keyboard keys to type those non-English characters in any application or keyboard layout. KEYMACRO simply plugs into the existing Windows keyboard and does not require any changes to the software, the keyboard layout or the operating system.

KEYMACRO Usage: Features:

- Allows you to type any character on the system's keyboard
