Is there a way to save a PNG image to a variable in Python so that I can later use it on the Android Emulator? The platform I am working with is Python 3.7.1. I am trying to do something similar to: from PIL import Image Image("image.png") # Generate a PNG and save to variable A: Considering that you can save binary data in variable, you can just write the bytes of the image. For example, to save to a file with open('path/to/image.png', 'wb') as outfile: outfile.write(bytes(Image.open('image.png'))) In the post- 1cb139a0ed
