The head coach was Jim Boeheim, coaching his 16th season with the Orange. The team played its home games in the Carrier Dome in Syracuse, New York and was a member of the Big East Conference. In Syracuse's first game of the season, sophomore reserve forward Deshawn Stevenson suffered a torn ACL in the first half of a 66–47 loss to Boston University, ruling him out for the rest of the season. This was the second time in two years that a member of the Orange's starting lineup had suffered a major injury, as Dwayne Stevenson had missed the entire 1999–2000 season recovering from a broken collarbone suffered in the 1998–99 season. Syracuse opened the season with a 62–41 win over at the FleetCenter in Boston. The Orange played its first conference game in a week, and won its next game over Pittsburgh by 19, leading to a 5–2 start to the season. Syracuse finished the non-conference portion of the schedule with a record of 14–4. The team won its first 12 games in the Big East, including an upset over #10 Georgetown. Syracuse fell to #5 Connecticut in the next game, however, and lost the rest of its games to lose the Big East Tournament to finish the season 20–12. In the NCAA Tournament, Syracuse was seeded #13 in the West Region, and lost in the First Round to #8 Michigan by a score of 78–61. Roster Schedule and results l- !colspan=9 style
