ON A MAC Can I use the DataTraveler in my USB 4 port hub? Can I use the DataTraveler in my USB 4 port hub? This is in response to the people that are viewing this video and have inquired about whether or not they can connect their USB 4 port hub to a DataTraveler drive. Usb is a specification that allows you to connect any number of devices to a computer through an USB port. USB hubs are an inexpensive and easy way to connect a number of devices in a small area. The problem with USB hubs is that they are used in combination with external devices like keyboards, mice and joysticks because of their limited number of ports. For the external device to work properly it is often necessary to use an individual external port instead of one inside the hub. This video is all about DataTraveler and my opinion of USB hubs. The hubs I tested are : The Elad Plugit Universal Hub - and The Trendnet Wireless DualHub - My Opinion - Personal Photos USB 4 port hub that I currently own and use - My opinion of USB Hubs The large, heavy hubs I want to buy - Why I like USB 3.0 and 4.0 My Opinion on data vs speed - Why I like the DataTraveler My Opinion on USB 3.0 vs 4.0 My Opinion on USB 3.0 performance Why I like the DataTraveler My Opinion on data vs speed My Opinion on USB 3.0 performance The Standard for USB http 77a5ca646e

PasswordTraveler enables you to create a password-protected area in your Kingston DataTraveler Secure Drive. This area is called a Privacy Zone. A Privacy Zone is a protected area where you can store your files and keep them away from others and enable them to be accessible to those who know the password. This password-protected area is only for your personal files and can be created on an existing partition on your drive. Features: You can now create password-protected areas on DataTraveler Secure drives. - PasswordTraveler can be installed on a DataTraveler Secure drive even if it's encrypted. - PasswordTraveler can be used for your personal use or to lock away your files from others. - On DataTraveler Secure, there are 3 password-protected areas - Privacy, Secure, and PasswordTraveler (only available on DATA08X2). - The default password for the PasswordTraveler area is "PasswordTraveler", which can be changed in the "Features" section. - This utility will not function with DataTraveler Secure drives if the drive is formatted. If you're struggling to find a particular file or document that you know exists on your hard drive, you might not want to browse the entire drive to find it. In that case, you can use a search feature in DataTraveler that lets you search for files on the drive based on one or more criteria, such as: - File names - Date created - Date last modified - Size of the file - File content - Type of file - Any other criteria you might want to search for If you want to have a quick way to find a file on your drive, you can use the Drive Insight feature. This feature uses the information that DataTraveler has access to about the drive's content to find the file or documents on your drive and present the information to you in a simple list. If you want to access files and folders that you don't have immediate access to, you can use the DataTraveler to create virtual folders on your drive. The DataTraveler Quick Start Guide will walk you through creating your first virtual folder, so you can get started right away. DataTraveler Quick Start Guide The DataTraveler Quick Start Guide is an easy-to-use step-by-step guide designed to walk you through the first steps of creating your virtual folders. The guide will be very helpful in answering the most frequently asked questions. Note: If you have previously created a password-protected area or virtual folder with DataTraveler, you do not have to create a new one. You can skip ahead to the next section in the guide. To create a new virtual folder on the DataTraveler Secure drive: 1. Select "My DataTraveler" from the main menu. 2. In the main menu, select
