FluencyCoach With Key

FluencyCoach is a simple (as in no mouse control or menus) and reliable speech aid for speakers who stutter or those who find it difficult speaking in public. How it works: FluencyCoach simulates altered auditory feedback in order to create "choral speech" (simultaneous speech from two persons). This type of speech generally enhances fluency. The delay in a speaker's own voice allows time for adjustment to the voice feedback and the other person's speech, effectively teaching the speaker to pay more attention to his or her voice and to modulate it accordingly. Many speakers without stuttering are able to perceive some of the features of DAF, such as, the pitch of the voice, speed and the degree of echo. The timing of the echo can be modified by the speaker's natural speech rate. Users may also use the user definable timer and volume control to get the right amount of feedback at the right time for fluency. Designed for:

- ❑ Speakers who stutter
- ❑ Adults or any age
- ❑ Anyone with auditory processing disorders
- ❑ People struggling with fluency in everyday situations and performing speaking exercises
- ❑ People who find it difficult making phone calls, giving presentations or in any public speaking situation
- ❑ Any other applications that require altered auditory feedback

Requirements:

- ❑ Microsoft's DirectX version 8 or above installed on the computer
- ❑ Windows XP or later operating systems
- ❑ Internet connection and microphone (optional)
- ❑ You need to record your speech in order to work with the application
- ❑ Four days trial (one license)

Limitations:

- ❑ US English only

She explained that if the remedy was taken in the morning before a full day of work, it prevented cancer from forming or from spreading. Of course she could not prove that, but she had a track record of success. Over a period of years, I sought other evidence, and finally found one. Through Linda's efforts, I looked into
