A .Q: Authenticating a shapefile via web app I have a shapefile that I would like to provide to some of our sites, then call data from those shapefiles on a web page. I'm working on a web app to use the System.IO.File class to access the shapefile, with the idea that the code could be used to upload data from any database to the site, without my having to write code to do this for each database and shapefile. There's an attribute in the shapefile that contains the path to a file (ie. shape.dbf) I would
