If you answered “yes”, you’re in luck because that means you’ll be able to watch the second half of season 3 for free on the CW’s official website starting Sunday. Usually we get a trailer, a preview, and a synopsis of each new episode, but unfortunately the CW is sticking with the standard mode of operation this time: the press release. In the lead-up to the end of the year the CW will be celebrating the Christmas holidays with a December Christmas. And – with the season finale of Legends of Tomorrow coming on Christmas Day – CW President Mark Pedowitz is excited to present an awesome new holiday tradition: the Network’s Annual Champion of the Christmas Season special. Network television’s most famous “Holiday Hero” will be crowned on December 25 – on the big screen, no less – with the new CW television movie, Champion of the Christmas Season, featuring a slew of daytime TV legends. The Network’s holiday staple returns in 2017 with the CW’s first-ever “Holiday Hero,” airing on Christmas Day 2017, with a giant December Christmas celebration that includes a holiday-themed mini-marathon. The network’s first-ever “Holiday Hero” will be crowned on December 25, 2017, on the CW’s biggest and most-watched holiday special in network history, Champion of the Christmas Season, starring a host of daytime TV giants who portray their most memorable characters. On the social scene, Twitter will have something to say (see: @KalenActin issue), fans will have a chance to pick up a holiday-themed Legend of Tomorrow bobblehead (yes, they exist) and the theme of the holiday movie poster will be “Champion of the Christmas Season.” This looks like a great holiday movie, and I’m glad they’re
