The story of Last Oasis is set in a peaceful corner of the distant medieval past where nomadic Celts are living in a fertile land. Their lives follow a precise ritual based on the seasons. After the long winters, they ride out their herds across the lush lands of the spring. During the warm summer, they weave colourful baskets, plant their fields and join their elders in the sacred games to celebrate the new warm days. In the autumn, the day of the dead approaches and they fast and hope for a bountiful winter. But even in the coldest times, there is always something to look forward to: the return of spring and the new adventures, starting with their well-tended gardens. The Celtic people are a strong and proud race, for which the pleasure of life is the most important thing. Their clan leaders take care of everything in order to live the best life possible. Their large extended families, their strong and kind-hearted men, and their magnificent women are responsible for everything. You can play as one of their leaders. Your life is about managing the skills of your people - if you do that right, you will be rewarded and become the wise leader of your people. Features of Last Oasis: • The unique combat system that allows you to choose between sword and bow • Unique and beautifully crafted world that consists of five unique locations, in which you can find dozens of quests that will fulfill different desires • Deep and detailed characters, with their own small but varied story. Each of them has their own backstory and skills, as well as you can learn about them from their living, moving stories • A feast for the senses: beautiful watercolor graphics and a special dubbing create a unique experience. Each of the tribes in Last Oasis has its own unique feast, dance and weapon. Some of them offer you unique quests, combat, skills and dialogue options - these will reward you with better equipment and even unique events! Your tribe's guards that patrol the borders of your lands will defend your tribe from intruders. You can meet them in the local bar and talk to them, asking them to become your personal guard. Each of them is a different person, with a different mindset. The guards will react differently to each of the events in your life and you can strengthen and change their attitude in the process. They will get better at their job, they will become more loyal or they will break and leave your tribe. During the conversation you can get insight into c9d1549cdd

I Love You is a fun and creative online kissing game that will give you an unforgettable experience. It's a simple game in which you need to simply click to make the red button disappear and the green one stay on your screen. It's also rather funny because you can't see the players because they're only seen through their buttocks - so, basically, I Love You is an app that puts your friends on display and allows you to then watch them using all of their body parts to kiss each other. You can play the game with your friends and family and do the kissing while you're waiting for the bus or waiting for your friends at the gym. The game also includes an achievement system that allows you to earn more stars for each new level you're able to reach.

I Love You is a simple online kissing game where you can do the kissing while you're waiting for your bus, the gym or even while you're in the bathroom. It's also a game that allows you to include your friends with the game and watch them do all of the kissing while you're taking a hot bath. You can play the game alone but the truth is that nothing feels as good as playing the game with your own friends. Features: * Simple gameplay * Fun for everyone * Free to play * Share with your friends

If you're looking for a simple, fun action puzzle game, you've found it! Barrel Blast is a physics-based puzzle game that doesn't require any skills to play and is perfect for those who want to simply have fun and explore new levels while they do so. The main goal of the game is to take out all of the red barrels while dodging green ones, and the player can use a variety of different objects to achieve this goal. To begin with, the player can choose between 2 different options: One is to simply shoot at the red barrels, and

Summer The only thing better than spending a sunny day outside shooting on the range is taking it indoors with Innerspace Games' Gun Club VR Summer. I've spent many hours shooting at virtual target games in Gun Club VR, but shooting in an actual gun range isn't nearly as much fun. Evidently, this is also the case for Innerspace Games' Gun Club VR Summer. It's a billiards-inspired shooter where you can take potshots from a virtual 16-stand range. The target navigation got a little tricky, but otherwise this was a simple and enjoyable way to spend some time at home. Once setup, you have to account for sun position, wind direction, and aiming time before firing. The game reminds you of this as a yellow line appears between how the red bullseye-shaped target (yes, there is a red bullseye on the goal) will eventually be. Each of the eight targets is entirely surrounded by an outline, so you'll have to line up the targets accordingly. The target navigation is slick, and I wasn't stuck too often. While you set the bullet target into the middle target, Gun Club VR Summer lets you play a round of pool in which you must hit a certain number of bullseyes to score a point. I found it very entertaining, but there's no way I'm going to be spending hours of practice to get a passing score. It's a nice party game as well, considering I thought most of my shots were good enough to score the first round without a single miss. The DualShock 4 controller has enough rumble to be felt in both your hands. I appreciated the subtle noise on hitting a bullseye, as it made me feel like I was actually skeeting the hell out of a virtual ball from the virtual gun range. Gun Club VR Summer, like Gun Club VR, has a steep learning curve. Gun Club VR Summer was even further from easy to get into that Gun Club VR, so if you're new to virtual shooting games, I'd recommend starting out in the latter and working your way up to Gun Club VR Summer. Once mastered, all together Gun Club VR is a fun co-op multiplayer game (you can decide who goes first or second) that involves firing ranging shots at well-defined targets. Gun Club VR Summer is a family-friendly set of apps that should be big on the PSVR. I just wish it came out sooner on PSVR

About Me Monday, 9 June 2013 Everything published to Fictionpress and Rescued is heading to Amazon Kindle soon. Everything was published for free and then B&N's Bresenham reader blew up and Adelina's expectations were annihilated! The second book in this series, Book #3, Dark Soul Awakening, has an Amazon Kindle cover up and has been up to date with photo editing and formatting. My latest book The Girl with the Stones can be read here: I have begun a new series called City of Poisoned Souls. The first book, Fallen City, is available on Amazon here: My new series is set in Victorian London and was inspired by my sister's best friend who is a girl in my recent past. I named it Grace Point after her hometown of Grace Point, Maine. My sister's friend is an Irish expat living in London who has a daughter with three sisters. Her family life revolves around her daughter and she calls her daughters her world. I like to think of myself as a
