War has arrived. The fighting has begun! At the beginning of time, the Earth was placed in darkness, without sun and heat. The Earth was crumbling, but the creatures of the darkness survived. They were reinforced by a new army, the death spirits. Thanks to these new weapons, the spirits can now walk the Earth. During a terrible flash of fire, the sun was reborn.

The creatures were completely scorched. The Earth was completely changed. Horrible mountains were created, and new creatures were born. A terrible war was begun... In the history of our planet, time has been moving forward, and there were several million of years. The creature population is growing continuously. People have seen whole continents suddenly collapse, seemingly out of nowhere. As with all creatures, the rats were sent into the dark by the sun's heat. In the city of rats there was a new and unusual form of life, called 'Rat' The rat population appeared all over the world, the huge population grew thanks to the availability of food from the dead remnants of ancient civilizations. As time passed, new forms appeared. A new species has appeared, as rats become more developed. The appearance of carnivores to the Asian sphere. The appearance of the conures - intelligent birds to the European north. The appearance of another species from the north of Siberia, plants in the south of Africa, snakes in North America, and finally to the Arctic in the South. Between all the aforementioned, a complex web of interactions is created. War has begun... The world is finally cooling down. The weather is changing for the worse. The dark came back to the Earth, and the vile creatures of darkness were like never before. A new army was formed. Those whom the army of darkness took by surprise and the darkness. Those who have been forgotten and the darkness. Those who died and the darkness. The wars between the various armies have begun. The large cities were attacked by dark creatures, and the entire population fled into the forest. The forests around the cities were like never before. The ruins of cities were completely destroyed, and the dark creatures of the Earth dug out for new cities. All was chaos. A fast race to reach the sea! The Earth is gradually changing,

Add your own game play and options, expand your ideas. Unity is the driving force to create more flexible gameplay. Reviews "Unity 5 is a vast leap forward from Unity 4 and the latter version is now old enough to be pretty well obsolete. It's also the best iteration of the Unity engine yet and should open up a lot of new opportunities for both indie developers and the larger development houses to use." - eDigitalDownload (5/2017, p16) "I love playing games in Unity, I will always prefer that engine when there is a choice. At last Unity now has an API that makes it more competitive with the others. And as with most Unity releases, there are some really nice improvements and refinements too." - 5 5 1 (5/2017, p38) Buy this game from Recent Reviews: 8/10 Play it GameThe small dialogue choice gives an important insight into the character of the main character. It is very similar to a Japanese RPG, only here you can choose the route you want to go through the story. Overall, the game is very intuitive and there is a great satisfaction of exploring the world through the well-presented dynamic camera. Now I know that I can, for example, buy an apple and eat it without fear. The strong sense of reward is not always present, but overall the game is a good one. It is one of the best games that I've tried and it
