Sergio is the third Spanish player to be named to the Ryder Cup team, the first Spaniards to do so since Rene Gonzales, Michael Campbell and David James in 1991, and just the fourth in Ryder Cup history. As a result of finishing second in the BMW Charity Day Qualifying, Sergio will travel to Ireland this week as part of the European team for the final practice round. Sergio also won in the BMW Day Qualifying, but must wait until next year before he can contest the final European qualifying event. "I am very happy to be selected for the Ryder Cup and I know the team is well balanced and I look forward to being part of the team next week at Celtic Manor," said Sergio. "I've always wanted to play in an international event and this year is my first time out in Europe. It's an important event for the Ryder Cup so I am looking forward to it." It has been a tremendous 24 hours for Sergio, as he won the BMW Day Qualifying event in New Jersey, then followed up with a Major win at the US Open, one that will knock him to the top
