The effective practice of medicine requires physicians to have compassion for their patients as well as competence in diagnosing and treating diseases. Because patients and physicians need to work in a synergistic manner, the physician must have the skill to cooperate with the patient to improve the patient's health. In addition, it is the physician's responsibility to educate the patient and the patient's family about health, disease, and disease prevention. This article discusses the practice of medicine within the context of healing, education, and mutual respect.Q: c# Send keys from table. I have a table with a few text boxes, what I want is to send those text boxes a certain amount of times when I press a button. I have tried to make my button be the output of a function which calls a function to send the text boxes but with no luck, so far. A: First, you need to create an event like button click and create a single event handler on the class containing the table. Then you need to add the following code private void button1 Click(object sender, EventArgs e) { Thread thd = new Thread(SendKeys); thd.Start(); } Now in SendKeys do the following void SendKeys() { for(int i = 0; i
