A lovely and fun story about romance, passion and love. You play an angel from a world called Telestia. You are your Chosen's guardian in this vibrant and mesmerizing world. You are young and full of energy and lust, and with your own wings you fly around the world of Telestia and do some pretty weird stuff and a lot of love. Your goal is to become the one who could please his Chosen for a week. The story has lots of fun and you are always on your own mission. You can create your own Chosen through building a story about him. You have to satisfy all his demands. To become more precise: There are various choices. You can decide for example, whether you want to date the Chosen, sleep with him, which means you make him love you more, or die. It's your decision. You can make him love you by a simple act of pure love or by some kind of manipulation. It is up to you to decide which is best and you will have to try out different options on your own. To be even more precise: you can destroy your Chosen, if you want to. This was the scenario post the C4 Demolition build until I found out how little money I had. I opted to not repair the coach, but use it as a savehouse at the beginning of the scenario when I did get the money I had. Caught a Town and stopped at the grocery store for some cash and food Next stop is the armory in town to go get some more gas and munitions for the siege I'm planning. Alright, so with 7 Soldier, 3 Ranger, 5 Coercer, 2 Healer, & 1 Doran easy enough I grab the Doran and start with him His Dream DPS ^_^ Just kidding. My initial barrage from defense to offense was built in without blowing up the team but going for the town and farmhouse along the way Idea being to drag the Coercer with me as a hidden cover holder I push southwest, since I prefer to face the walls instead of the town when Siege. Ranger and Healer split and move south to cover the walls again. Ranger starts to move southwest since he's against the north wall(most armor friendly walls) Left combat ready. Idea with Hidden Archer is for him to hold the Coercer in the Bushes 1 on the southwest side of the building. I don't really want to kill him. I keep him behind some barrels for covering me as I remove the cover with a guard Doran keeps the Coercer flanking to the side out of most of the frontline Ranger and Coercer keeps healing, keeping me at full health. -------------- There is a green tint on the screen as a tip that current energy level is below the minimum level for the game to operate correctly. This indicates the need to refuel and rest the energy of the members of the squad in order to increase the efficiency of the gameplay. Use herbs and medicinal plants to fully heal the soldiers and revive from the comas. Take part in hunting and collect different animals to increase the level of the members of the squad. There is a mineral point on the map to add more fighters, or to find additional expeditions with new fighters. You can also reduce the energy cost of using them. ◉ Improvements in the gameplay: --------------------------- We added a new search mode: ◉ Use CTRL + F to see search results. Find the missing mineral points and hunt different types of animals: ◉ Select an animal. ◉ Try to catch it. ◉ Plan to hunt it. There is a back tracking system which allows you to move up and down the hill. There is also a choice of different navigation options. If you want to try something in the arcade mode - feel free! ◉ Use arrow buttons to move. ◉ Use space to pause the game and go back to the menu. ◉ Use CTRL to toggle new menus. ◉ For the new items use your mouse buttons. ◉ For the tips use TAB. Customization: --------------- • Users can change/set their default settings via the settings window. Default: -------- • Use the fullscreen mode when game starts. • Set the value of the minimum level of the game so that it operates in the best conditions. • Set the resolution you want. • Turn on/off with a button the ability to change the resolution of the game. • Allow saving the game automatically at the end. • Set auto save interval for saving the game. • Set delay for loading game. • Set the sounds and settings of the night and day effects. • Choose which class to use for each soldier. • Set the game for automatic save intervals. • Set the load and save of the game at each change. • Set other common settings.
