Extensive Screen Saver. Acceptable when used with the standard version of Office. Picture created using photos and stills from many of the ships in our fleet. Features a comprehensive list of many destinations around the world. Easy to control whether to view images or text. Includes a welcome screen to make the first viewing pleasant and easy. An option for those who prefer to use our oneworld screensaver when connected to another monitor. Includes a welcome screen to make the first viewing pleasant and easy. The oneworld screensaver is a collection of screenshots taken from the airplanes in our fleet. Its primary purpose is to showcase destinations to our clients and partners. The screensaver can be used on computers that are part of a networked environment and, if the PC is the only one being used, does not provide any extra benefit. You can use this screensaver on any PC but it will require the install of Office (Word, Outlook, PowerPoint, etc.). If you are not familiar with screensavers, they are usually one-shot installs that run at startup and stay up for a set time period. This screensaver is different because it sets the active desktop background and saves it to your computer. When you launch the screensaver, there will be a welcome screen as the first thing you see. This is to make the first viewing of the screensaver more pleasing to the eye and easier. You can select to view the screensaver with images or without images. Microsoft Office is an excellent personal productivity tool. In addition to its standard functions, it offers functionality such as professional graphics and shapes. Microsoft Office works with a lot of different graphic formats and can even save images as various kinds of graphic formats. If you can save any kind of image, you can save any image. Microsoft Office saves the images by default as a.jpeg file. This screensaver will use the default file name of the image that you are using. You can change the file name using the dialog box that opens when you select the option to view the images. Microsoft Office includes a lot of different features. If you are not able to save any image, you can simply leave the dialog box open and the screensaver will save the images every time you change the screensaver settings.
