The game is being developed by a team of skilled developers at Cradle Games that have a great deal of experience developing fantasy role-playing games. The development team includes many veterans of the RPG game genre such as the former president of WUG, who is a veteran game designer, business manager, programmer, and producer. Based on the creative feedback of the fans, the action RPG is under development for the Nintendo Switch™, Nintendo DS™, and 3DS™ systems, and will be released worldwide in 2020. ABOUT CRADLE GAMES: Cradle Games is a new studio established on November 1, 2019. On November 15, 2019, Cradle Games released the action RPG Elden Ring to go to the Nintendo Switch™, Nintendo DS™, and 3DS™ systems, and the game is currently under development on the Nintendo Switch™. www.cradlegames.com *1. About the Land Between the Sky and Sea Cradle Games is currently developing a new action RPG for the Nintendo Switch™, Nintendo DS™, and 3DS™ systems. This action RPG is set in the Land Between the Sky and the Sea, which is a vast unknown world between the sky and the sea. The game is known as Elden Ring, and its story takes place in the Lands Between, a world formed from fragments of the fire-born gods. While exploring the Lands Between, players become guardians of a certain power and are transformed into Elden Lords with the power of the Ring. Battles take place in a three-dimensional space that the players can freely explore. The game features elements that lead the players to create their own online activities. *2. About an Action RPG for the Nintendo Switch™, Nintendo DS™, and 3DS™ The development team includes many veterans of the RPG game genre, such as the former president of WUG, who is a veteran game designer, business manager, programmer, and producer. A great deal of care is being taken during the development to ensure that this new action RPG feels like an RPG title, but it is also developing content that allows players to experience action-RPG gameplay. Use of cross-reactive materials to test for toxoplasmosis in pigs produced by a commercial sterilization technique. Before commercial production of pigs, a study was conducted in five pig-raising herds to determine the efficacy of a process for sterilization to prevent transmission of Toxoplasma. Fourteenth-rib samples of 781 from herds A, B, C, and D were examined using the agar gel immunodiffusion test, an enzyme-linked immunosorbent assay and an immunoperoxidase test to measure titers of antibodies. The mean percentage of seronegative 14-thirteenth-rib samples was 96.17 +/- 1.40, 100.00 +/- 0.00, 100.00 +/- 0.00, and 98.09 +/- 1.25, respectively, with similar results from nonlamp-sterilized pigs (116.6 micrograms of BrdU and 125.0 micrograms of colchicine per ml of serum). The pooled 14-thirteenth-rib serum samples and littermates from three litters were titrated with agar gel immunodiffusion, enzyme-linked immunosorbent assay, and immunoperoxidase tests and the corresponding positive and negative standard reactions were detected in all three tests. In a second part of the study, piglets seronegative in the index herd were caged with seropositive sows of the same and different herds for breeding purposes. The seroprevalence of toxoplasmosis before breeding was 10
