Several simulation packages are available to simulate automotive structures or systems, including the Lotus Suspension Analysis (LSA), Eurosusp, MSicaeli and TIOThesis. AST is specialized for designing and analysis of real-time mechanical performance. It can also be used for static structures. AST products are integrated with MATLAB and CGE. Transmission, engine and chassis dynamics are included. The G-Force and G-Sensitivity modules are based on ANSYS. The statics module is based on MSC and MSC/FEM. In addition, an easy-to-use graphical user interface called LSA-Studio is provided. This is a very helpful tool for all people who want to see. Lastly, you can have all the information.
