I got the loan from Cashloannow. Their service was excellent, they gave me clear explanation on the whole procedure and some other related services like tax forms and penalties which helped me a lot. The terms and conditions were very easy and flexible. I would highly recommend those guys to everyone. Just Trust me " - Adir Get started now! "I was having issues with my credit card, I have been declined of many things and I was given 4 days to settle the card. They reached out to me and got back to me really fast and actually gave me some alternatives. I got my card approved and I am happy with them. The only reason why I didn't get my money is because I paid the card less than 24 hours before the due date and it was a really low amount so that's the reason why I didn't get the money. But I would definitely recommend them and would give them 100 stars if I could" - William Get started now! "Love my bank. Would recommend this bank. No hassles, no waiting, no explanations, no complex terms and conditions, no hidden charges. I have the best bank because they are the best online customer support I have ever used. There are other methods, but we wanted to avoid the issue of also being able to evaluate from the responses themselves, as that would be a bit of a game of mind numbing dominoes. Can someone please help me, i want to convert a text file into excel file where i need to find the words and print the file. My file has 12 columns and around 50000 rows of data. Please help me. Multithreading It does support multiple threads. But try getting it to finish (saving the spreadsheet). Then figure out why the process is not working as expected, until you get to a point where the writing and editing of the solution is what it takes longest to do and then you can say that multiple threads are not working. You've got two ways to solve this. The first would be to update all columns at once in a single thread. The second would be to update all columns using a range, using a "thread safe approach". The Excel version has the advantage that updating a single cell in a single sheet can take place at the same time as other processing, simply by changing the Excel model for the entire file, not just a single cell. We have scoped to the second approach. At any rate, good luck.
