I had a different controller and I assigned an unused button to run video_transition and it worked fine. I understand that the default display for the MC3000 is css does not support CSS3 and uses tags with JavaScript, so I have to use one of those. Is there any way to do this in a browser without JavaScript? EDIT: I just realized that I can use the img tag with CSS, but I would need to set the src attribute and allow access to it via JavaScript. Is there any way to create an image tag to use it without JavaScript Alternatively, you can use the image tag to do the same thing.
