
well, and two of them were hospitalized with gunshot wounds, reported CBS Philly. No law enforcement had yet to comment on the incident. ADVERTISEMENT Johnson had been there to celebrate his birthday, according to one witness, and another person was filming on their cell phone. "He was standing right next to me, and when I heard the shots I tried to move, but that's when I fell," the witness, who declined to be identified to The Washington Post, told the newspaper. His friend then pointed the gun towards the alleged shooter in the viral video, at which point the suspect was able to run away, according to WPVI-TV. The second person injured was also a Drexel student. "The victim had been shot in the groin but did not appear to be in life-threatening condition," Philadelphia Police Commissioner Richard Ross, according to MSNBC. Several witnesses told WPVI-TV that they heard gunfire coming from a yellow Honda SUV. The Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives is leading the investigation. Police said there was no danger to the public, however, and the incident remains under investigation.[Erythrocyte contamination of culture media in vitro. A new infection risk]. The erythrocyte or erythrocyte-packed fraction of blood transfusions may contaminate culture media. In the present case, a culture medium was contaminated by whole blood, obtained from leukaemic patients. The cells of the erythrocyte fraction were infected with Toxoplasma gondii; the parasites were phagocytosed by a macrophage.Q: Editing a subclass using an Abstract subclass method I have the following classes: public abstract class MyClass { abstract MyClass get() } public class MySubClass extends MyClass { } public class MyOtherSubClass extends MyClass { c6a93da74d
