02:04:36 gmt.phospholipid acyltransferase from rabbit liver microsomes. a catalytic phospholipid acyltransferase is described which transfers acyl groups from a sn-1 phosphatidylcholine to a phosphatidylcholine substrate in the presence of Mg^{2+} , atp, coenzyme a, and an unidentified coenzyme. a high velocity enzyme form was purified about 500-fold by chromatography on deae-sepharose, bio-gel p-30, and sephadex g-100. the activity was eluted at a lower ionic strength than the Mg atp-dependent phosphatidylcholine methyltransferase activity. the purified enzyme was found to be a dimer, approximately 700,000 daltons in size, when examined by gel filtration. the enzyme can be solubilized with 8 m urea, but its activity is not destroyed by the urea treatment. the enzyme was stable over a ph range of 6.6-8.5. the km values for the sn-1 acyl donor and the sn-2 acceptor were determined as 25 microm and 220 microm, respectively. the enzyme activity was not affected by Ca^{2+} , but was stimulated about 3-fold by coash and inhibited by coa or atp. these results suggest that the transferase activity is related to an enzyme which can transfer acyl groups from a sn-1 phosphatidylcholine to a phosphatidylcholine substrate, but distinct from phosphatidylcholine methyltransferase. the potential physiological significance of the acyltransferase activity is discussed.

ask hn: how do you deal with the time-constant urgency to get a job? - alexposito i've been reading this thread: and have been thinking about how i'm approaching the problem. i'm extremely reluctant to work for free. i know i can quickly become a commodity. the problem is that i'm not a commodity and it takes time to be known as an expert in my field. i've been asking for work for a long time but no-one wants to make a quick decision. so i keep going, knowing that i will eventually get a job but what i'm missing is the urgency to get a job. how do you solve this problem?

==== dang this is not a problem. the only thing it's a problem for is your own self-esteem and sense of self-worth. if you feel that way, then you should probably stop working so much. the way to get known is to work. the way to get a job is to work. the way to get good at something is to work. 5ec8ef588b
