Q: Dynamically get the number of rows from Access DB I have a form which uses VBA to select a query, and then populates a listbox with the results. I am trying to get the number of records that have been selected. I would ideally just do: Dim totalRows As Long totalRows = dq.RecordCount And then use this number as the number of items to display in my list box. I can't seem to figure out how to get the number of rows from the query though, so am trying to find an alternative. I am trying something like this: Dim qd As QueryDef qd = Application.CurrentDb.QueryDefs("Select") TotalRows = qd.RecordCount This just returns 0. Is there a way to get the number of rows from the query?

A: Looks like you can't find a way to get the record count without using a linked table. Instead, I am using a linked table, and then just removing them when the user clicks "OK". I'm then getting the number of records from the linked table. An examination of the use of codeine: a case study in prescribing. This study analysed the prescribing of codeine as a new class drug in Australia. The mean daily dose was 7.1 mg/day, accounting for less than 5% of all analgesic use. The mean number of prescriptions for codeine was 20 per 1000 total population, about half of all analgesic prescriptions. The daily use of codeine was associated with increasing age and increased the risk of a specific adverse drug event for older users. A significant amount of codeine

El Área de Competitividad de la Comisión Europea considera como patentable, más allá de la Ley ETS, un invento denominado "Motor autobombo/motor autobomba". La propuesta de reglamento del organismo europeo para estimular la aplicación de la Ley de Inventos y de Propiedad Intelectual fue enviada a todos los Estados miembros para su opinión. Y el Gobierno y sus partidarios confían en que reciba el visto bueno con facilidad por parte del

Parlamento Europeo, en una eventual aprobación de la propuesta de la Comisión. En su opinión, que se publicará en los próximos días, este invento puede ser puesto en práctica sin necesidad de elaborar ningún otro invento, puesto que, tal y como se desprende del título de la propuesta de reglamento, "motor autobombo/motor autobomba", es el soporte necesario para que un vehículo automotor siga más allá de la velocidad del que se comercializa y se permite su transporte. El Ministerio de Industria, Energía y Turismo, que ha elaborado este invento, también defiende que no es necesario diseñar un nuevo vehículo en base a este motor, ya que basta con esos componentes con los que se comercializa el vehículo que se propone comer

What's New in the GIGATweaker?

Overview: The default Windows 7 "Action Center" menu can be removed from the right edge of the taskbar and from the "System Tray", the context menu and the "Start Menu". You can enable the "Settings" menu that allows you to configure important Windows 7 settings such as the display for the "Start Menu" and visual effects. Moreover, you can enable the taskbar that allows you to modify the "Applying Changes" button, show the location for installing updates and "Preview Changes" menu, show the notification area, set the size for the taskbar, icon, location, background and active window, set the option to minimize all windows to the system tray, set the hot key for "Show the Notification Area" and customize the system (e.g. startup, shutdown, input language) and optimization (e.g. search indexer, automatic folder view discovery). Windows & System Tweaker by Andrew Buy It CNET Editors' Rating The Bottom Line You can customize your operating system the way you want it with GIGATweaker. 7.4 Overall Design7.0 Interface8.0 Features8.0 Performance7.0 Review Sections GIGATweaker is a simple application for Windows users, but it can help you personalize your operating system in a few simple steps. The program can disable the "Action Center" and "Settings" menus, enable "Restart" button when the system fails and reset the account to the factory defaults. It can also display detailed information about your system status and allow you to set important system security options. The interface looks like the one of the Windows Vista program, and there's nothing to learn.

The applications doesn't use Windows XP-style shortcuts and it takes very little system resources. GIGATweaker doesn't require administrator privileges, so anyone with a basic knowledge of the operating system can use it. You can start GIGATweaker without a password, but you should create a restore point before starting the program. That way, the system can be restored to the initial state if something unexpected happens. This will make it much easier to recover from such issues. The options panel is a good starting point for configuring your system
